

Thanks to columns written through the years by JB Leftwich for the Lebanon Democrat and Nashville Tennessean, days on The Hilltop are still alive...along with the personalities, creativity, humor, adventures and uniqueness of cadets and faculty.....

JB covers more than 40 years of Tigers sports, the lives of hundreds of Heights cadets [during / after CHMA], the good and bad of Bernarr Macfadden and his Foundation, three major efforts to save the Academy....

Most important: up close and personal stories about Dan Ingram, Ralph Lucas, Stroud Gwynn, Robert Hosier, Lindsey Donnell, Bobby Todd, Leonard Bradley, Tom Harris, Harry Armstrong, Merlin Sanders, Miss Fahey, Kenneth Morgan, Paul Wooten, C. H. Hurd and the real soldiers of the US Army Military Department staffs....

Fascinating reading for those who helped create the 'Castle Heights Spirit'
